Notes

Looking forward for your business.

80% advance payment upon confirmation of the quotation, and the remaining 20% upon completion of the work.

Terms & Conditions

The scope of work is limited to the products and services specifically mentioned in this quotation. Any additional cabling, materials, configuration, site visit, relocation, repair, or support will be charged separately.

The client shall ensure that the site is ready and provide necessary access, power supply, internet connection, permissions, and a responsible person during installation. Delays or additional visits caused by site non-readiness will be charged separately.

Existing network, internet, electrical, cabling, PBX, telephone lines, SIP trunks, devices, and third-party systems are not covered under this quotation unless specifically mentioned.

SkyCloud shall not be responsible for service interruptions, call-quality issues, internet failure, SIP-trunk issues, telephone-line problems, power failure, network restrictions, hacking, data loss, or problems caused by third-party providers, existing equipment, or client-side changes.

Hardware and third-party products are covered only under the applicable manufacturer or supplier warranty. Physical damage, electrical damage, water damage, misuse, unauthorised modification, and power-surge damage are not covered.

Backup, monitoring, user training, future configuration changes, maintenance, troubleshooting, additional extensions, remote support, and after-sales visits are not included unless specifically mentioned in writing.

All supplied equipment and installed materials shall remain the property of SkyCloud until full payment is received.

Advance payments are non-refundable once equipment procurement, configuration, cabling, planning, or site work has started.

SkyCloud's maximum liability for this work shall be limited to the amount paid for the specific quotation. SkyCloud shall not be liable for indirect loss, business interruption, loss of profit, loss of calls, loss of data, or consequential damages.

Advance payment, purchase order, signed quotation, email or WhatsApp approval, payment confirmation, or instruction to begin the work shall be treated as acceptance of this quotation and its Terms & Conditions.
